BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1947

VOL. 56—No. 8

Observations... From Around Town

(BY JAY WHOZIT)

Yes, sir, the Carnival Ball on last Friday evening was really a gala affair, with King Rene and Queen Flora reigning over their "subjects for an evening," as majestically as the monarchs of old... the theme of the ball "South of the Border," was beautifully illustrated in the stage setting, which was truly a work of art... congratulations to Mr. Brignac, who had charge of decorating... that new display section George Stevenson had built into his place of business is really something, nice going George... and men, when you feel the urge to treat the missus by dining out, take her to Tish's Grill, at Reed Hotel, Howard really knows his onions... Bay Hi School Band marched in Carnival parades in both New Orleans and Mobile, quite an achievement... nice going, Pat... did you see the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Saint Stanislaus advertisements in last Sunday's Times-Picayune Magazine?... the Bay High School boxing team and their coach, Mr. August Scalfidi have been invited to participate in the 19th annual South Atlantic Prep and High School Boxing Championship Tournament, to be held in Charlottesville, Va., on March 14-15... congratulations, kids, and good luck... and speaking of the Carnival Ball again, did you notice how those red sashes showed off the prominent pouches on some of our "middle-aged youngsters" the new changes in the local mail delivery routes began on Monday of this week, and will provide better and quicker service to all patrons in the area covered... hundreds of Bay St. Louis folks journeyed to New Orleans on Tuesday to view the Mardi Gras, as per annual custom... Wednesday was Ash-Wednesday, the first day of Lent, the season of penance... Lent—when children give up spinach, women give up gossip, oh, yeah, and men—well they just give up, period... the Civil Aeronautics Administration recommends an airport—and seaplane base for Bay St. Louis, not a bad idea, in these modern times, when people are becoming more air-minded every day... February 22 is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the Father of our Country, whose philosophies, ideals and achievements still inspire us in our fight for a lasting peace... To the Board of Supervisors: Why don't you put another coat of topping on the Kiln Road?... it's beginning to come apart in spots and a little treatment now would help a lot... remember the saying, "A stitch in time, etc. etc." might save a lot of grief and money later on... This is National American Brotherhood Week, the purpose of which is to promote tolerance, understanding, and cooperation among persons of all creeds... a wonderful idea... remember, a kind word, a smile, a pat on the back, can go a long way toward lifting the morale of one less fortunate than yourself... read the notice of election elsewhere in this issue, in which the City of Bay St. Louis is asking the approval or disapproval of an Ordinance granting an electric franchise to the Mississippi Power Company, by which the City will receive 2% of the total revenue of the Power Company in our City for the next 25 years... when the time comes, Vote for it.

FACTS ABOUT P. T. A.

Monday, February 17, 1947 marked the Fifteenth Anniversary of the organization known as the Congress of Parents and Teachers and set forth here are a few items of interest concerning an organization which functions in each of the forty-eight states, District of Columbia and Territory of Hawaii.

The date of organization of the first P-T-A. was February 17, 1897 at Washington, D. C. and was attended by 2,000 people. Mrs. Grover Cleveland entertained at the reception for those attending.

Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney was the organizer and coming to her aid in a financial way was Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst who not only aided with money but in cooperation and understanding. A memorial at Marietta, Georgia, has been erected to Mrs. Birney and dedicated to "a great woman who made a great dream come true."

Activities of the P-T-A. have been in the field of parent-education—home and school cooperation and community improvement.

Membership, which counted in the thousands in the beginning of the organization, now numbers almost four million.

The national congress publishes a magazine which has a far reaching circulation and which carries no advertising.

Mississippi has had as its slogan Fifty Years and 50,000 members and has a membership of 35,000.

The local P-T-A. though comparatively small and young is responsible for many children having been able to continue in school, because during dark days for this county the organization furnished clothing, milk for the undernourished child, and school books. After the initiating of the hot lunch program it furnished hot lunches for underprivileged children. Health programs have been part of the work and the summer Round Ups have seen many a child to school in the fall without a physical handicap.

Whenever it has been necessary to build up public sentiment around some educational move the P-T-A. has stood ready to take up arms on the side of the movement and lend its support to the cause.

SPEAKS BEFORE BAY-WAVELAND GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick reported on the meeting with the other coast garden clubs relative to plans for the entertainment of the visiting club members during the convention of State Garden Clubs to be held at the Buena Vista Hotel, April 21, 22, and 23.

Mrs. L. T. Boyd, chairman, flower arrangements, requested that members become more interested in submitting entries at the regular monthly meetings. It was suggested that pot plants be submitted and Mrs. Kohler spoke of the possibility of using fruits and vegetables when flowers are scarce.

There were several visitors present and Mrs. N. C. Erwin of Waveland was received as a member.

Mr. Bateman's talk centered around the planting, growing and fertilization of Camellias, Azaleas and Gardenias with reference to soil conditions, pests, diseases, preventative methods of spraying. The privilege of asking questions was given and this made the talk of even greater value to the growers of these plants.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Radford and her co-hostesses Mrs. John Bell, Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Keith Creighton.

Works On Ceramic Creations

In the Sunday, February 16, issue of the Times-Picayune was carried a picture and story of Miss Maia Weston, Newcomb College senior photographed, in the midst of her ceramic creations.

The story says in part that the center of cultural development of modern ceramics in this section of the world is the Newcomb Art School.

The story says "A recently completed project highlights the creative work being accomplished in the ceramics department, Maia Weston and her 'swan song in clay' has developed an original idea of designing and making a series of containers with forms and glazes that specifically suit the color texture, and shape of various house plants, considering both their leaves and blossoms.

Miss Weston has made drawings in order that the proper proportion between plant and container could be ascertained. For example a low growing plant needs a pot to bring out the horizontal lines and a trailing plant needs bases to accentuate its curves. From the drawings she moulded her pieces.

Her collection was shown to friends of art recently and many of the pieces remain on view at the Newcomb Art School, Ceramics division.

The young artist is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Weston of New Orleans. Mr. Weston, her father is the son of Mrs. David Weston and the late Mr. Weston of Logtown. She is taking her Masters degree in ceramics at Newcomb and has accepted a part time position as instructor of ceramics at Metairie Country Day School where she finished her high school education.

OUR NO. 1 DISEASE

DR. Howard A. Rusk, calling heart disease the nation's No. 1 killer, says that during World War II natural deaths approximated 325,000 but, during the same period, more than 2,000,000 men, women and children on the home front were killed by diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

The doctor tells us that heart disease takes a greater death toll than the five other leading diseases of death combined. It caused three times as many deaths as cancer, six times as many as accidents, seven times as many as pneumonia and ten times as many as tuberculosis. Nearly one out of every two deaths after the age of forty-five is due to heart disease, but Dr. Rusk points out that it causes more deaths among children between the ages of ten and sixteen than any other disease.

Without going into the various types of heart diseases, we call attention to the degenerative which is usually relate to advancing years. The causative factors are not known but they are aggravated by over-work, over-weight and over-worry. No specific treatment will restore such a heart but often a modification of the patient's regime of living will enable the individual to continue for many years.

Dr. Rusk calls attention to a surgeon who had a coronary thrombosis at forty-three but carried on an active surgical practice at sixty-five. This, he believes, is frequent among doctors, lawyers, business executives and individuals doing sedentary work under high tension. It is less common with those who work with their hands or do at least a moderate amount of manual labor.

The doctor suggests that the dynamic, driving individual, with a cardiac breakdown, should secure a philosophy of living that will permit him to live contentedly at a new lowered tempo. We feel sure that this will help in the case of heart disease, but we also believe that it would be good medication for almost any type of human ailment.

MISSION DRIVE

DURING Lent, we shall have our annual Mission Drive. With your cooperation, we expect this year's to be the best ever.

Missionary Work is human as well as Divine. Therefore, it must make use of both human and Divine assistance. Men, money and Prayers are of prime importance in this necessary work.

Some chosen souls receive the inestimable grace of vocation to the priestly or religious life. Of this number, a select few desire to serve in the Mission Fields. Such intimate friends of God who generously follow their vocation are the men required to staff both Home and Foreign Missions.

Missionaries are real men like ourselves. Nevertheless, they voluntarily sacrifice home, country and personal comfort in order to spend their lives working for God and souls He has created. They endure all kinds of hardships not to obtain worldly fame but to help God in His great work of Charity. They volunteer for Mission Work so that they may lead others to know, love and serve God. They do not like to see people living like animals that do not know their Creator.

God has favored many of us with an abundance of earthly riches. Let us return thanks by being generous; sharing our gifts with others who are in need. In this way we will have an active part in the work of the Missions.

Travelling is costly; hence the first need of a Mission Fund is to defray travelling expenses of Missionaries. Missionaries must live. They must procure the necessary clothing, food, building materials, medical supplies, religious and secular books. They must pay Teachers and Catechists. What an amount of money is required just to let the Missions exist.

All things are possible through prayer. Missionaries work as if all depend on them; they pray as if all depend on God. Prayer is the means all of us can use and use frequently. Missionary Work is full of disappointments, sufferings and hardships. No doubt, many of these become bearable only because so many Christians offer their prayers and sacrifices for their intention. You, each one of you, can lighten these burdens of Missionaries by your personal service, or money or prayers. Don't refuse this one offering you can make in order that the lives of others may be at least livable.—St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw.

DO WE WANT TOURISTS?

ONE of the nation's leading authorities on travel by automobile predicts that motorists will move more than 20,000,000 miles this year and spend around $10,000,000,000.

If this estimate is correct, the motor-travel business is one of the largest in the nation. It behooves the people of Hancock County to take a look-see in order to discover if there are possibilities in connection with the habit of Americans to travel by automobile.

The conscious and intelligent effort to attract tourists must be based on providing what the travelers desire. As most of them are on vacation the chief ingredient is amusement, relaxation and pleasant places in which to stay. If Bay St. Louis wants tourists to come to stay, there must be a deliberate effort to provide the things that tourists desire.

It would be silly to expect a miracle to happen overnight, but by execution of intelligent plans, it ought to be possible for us to present attractive lures to automobile tourists. The idea is to get them to come to Bay St. Louis and then to make it so attractive that they will enjoy their visit.

ORTTE THEATRE SUNDAY - MONDAY PRESENTS "THE SECRET HEART"

With Claudette Colbert,
Walter Pidgeon, June
Allyson

The gripping and emotionally penetrating story of a girl whose neurotic attachment for the memory of her father brings her close to the brink of tragedy is stirring enacted on the screen in "The Secret Heart," with Claudette Colbert, Walter Pidgeon and June Allyson offering three of the finest acting performances of the year.

Miss Allyson is the daughter whose distrust and hatred of her stepmother Claudette Colbert, is engendered by the belief that her father has killed himself because of his second wife's infidelity. When the neurotic girl subsequently falls in love with Walter Pidgeon only to be disillusioned in the discovery that she has made a dreadful mistake and that it is Miss Colbert whom Pidgeon loves, the embittered girl believes that her stepmother has for the second time broken up her life, and attempts to throw herself from a cliff. The tragedy is prevented in the nick of time and when Miss Allyson is finally persuaded of the truth, namely that her idolized father killed himself because he was a thief, the conflicts and doubts of her mind are resolved.

While tragic in theme, the story of "The Secret Heart" has been so deftly handled by its writers and so discerningly directed by the veteran Robert Z. Leonard, that it is never heavy-laden nor morose. Of immeasurable aid, of course, is the superb acting of its trio of principals. Miss Colbert in the difficult role of the misunderstood stepmother, has never shown to greater advantage. She not only makes her character completely attractive and sympathetic but permeates it with poignant and subtle undertones. One is with her from the start and it is a great relief to find her character vindicated at the end.

Walter Pidgeon, who can always be relied upon for a convincing and finished performance does not disappoint in this one, while the talented and versatile Miss Allyson climbs another notch toward film fame with what is undoubtedly the finest work of her career. Formerly associated chiefly with light comedy parts, in "The Secret Heart" she shows what she can do with a role that requires something far in excess of fetching looks and an ingratiating personality.

An excellent supporting cast surrounds the stars, with Lionel Barrymore cast as a worldly-wise psychiatrist, Robert Sterling as Miss Allyson's sympathetic and amiable brother, and Marshall Thompson as a not easily discouraged suitor.

THIS LITTLE PIG REALLY WENT TO MARKET

Some call it a "Go-Devil"... others call it a "Pig." But whatever the name, it's a piston-like projectile that moves through a new pipe line ahead of the first charge of gas—clearing the line of dust and other foreign substances. It's a great moment when the "pig" arrives at the end of the line, for it signals the end of weary months of back-breaking labors, sloughing through muck and swamps, toiling across rivers and under highways.

United Gas pipe lines serving many towns and cities of Mississippi were built under almost unbelievable physical hardships due to the topography of the area. They were built and others are now being built to assure an adequate and uninterrupted supply of gas to meet the ever-growing demands of the homes and industries of the state. Much of the gas passing through those lines today would have gone to waste or remained in the ground a few short years ago for lack of a market. This construction of new pipe lines is graphic evidence of United Gas' program of CONSERVATION through use.

His federal nomination has been confirmed by the Senate and he expects to take over the new position soon.

PRIMARY ELECTION

It seems certain now, whether the Legislature is convened in extraordinary session or not, that the old law will be automatically restored and the first primary held on August 5th and the second primary three weeks later on August 26. HISTORICAL Franklin County was established December 21, 1809, and is therefore, eight years older than Mississippi as a state. The county has a land area of 547 square miles and population of 12,495. Franklin County is separated from the Mississippi River by Adams County, hence Franklin is a part of the territory known as the "Natchez County" where farmers became wealthy growing cotton with slave labor, in the period preceding the War between the States. Farming is still the main occupation of most of the people of the county. The 1945 farm census gave Franklin County 1,295 farms, average size 125.9 acres. Farmers of Franklin County devote considerable time to breeding and raising livestock. The value of farm property, land and buildings, is placed by the farm census at $2,252,290.

"BLACK MARKET TAX"

Tax Collector Craig has given out figures showing the "Black Market" collector of taxes on liquor in the calendar year of 1946 was $969,453.11.

RAKING AROUND—

Government checks amounting to more than two million dollars are being mailed to Mississippi farmers in connection with their work on soil conservation. On account of gasoline tax collections in the state in 1946, nearly nine million dollars have been dispersed to the eighty-two counties. The State Medical Education Board has awarded four more medical scholarships. The Mineral Lease Commission will have up for consideration this week two or more propositions to lease for oil and gas the land of the State.

INDIANS DEFEAT TIGERS IN FISTIC BATTLE 5½ to 4½

Bay High boxing squad was defeated by the Biloxi Indians 5½ to 4½ before a large crowd in the Bay High gym Thursday night, February 14.

The first bout of the evening was an exhibition between Wetzel and Eaves, both of Biloxi. These boys put up one of the best fights of the night.

Terrill Randolph opened the regular scheduled bouts by winning a decision over Kopszyra in the 65 pound class.

Manual Poyadon lost a close decision to Thornton of Biloxi.

The third fight on the card found McArthur of Bay High and Mareno of Biloxi slugging it out for 3 rounds and each came out of the ring with a draw.

Rudy Morel outpointed Parder in the fifth fistic classic of the night.

Reaux of Biloxi proved to be too much for Bermont of Bay Hi as the Biloxi boy won by a TKO in the second round.

Another Tiger went down in defeat when Nelson of Biloxi won over Casey by a TKO.

Bay Hi came back to even the score as Price won by a decision over Ward in the 100 pound class.

Strong of Biloxi proved to be too strong for Teddy Morel as the Biloxian won a close decision in the 105 pound class.

The best fight of the evening found Cospelich of Bay High showing some good boxing ability winning a wide decision over Schexneider of Biloxi in the 112 pound bracket.

The feature and final bout of the evening brought together Joe Capdepon of Bay Hi and Chester Comeaux of Biloxi fighting in the 135 pound class. Both boys battled on an even keel but Comeaux finished on top at the final bell and the Biloxi boy won by a close decision and also enabled the Indians to defeat the Bay High Tigers 5½ to 4½.

Comments From County Agricultural Office

The Hancock County P. M. A. is now taking orders for Basic Slag. Farmers are urged to place their orders for this material so that it can be ordered. Orders must be early if Hancock County is to receive its share of the material available. Basic slag will be available under the Purchase Order Program and will cost $12.50 per ton. P. M. A. pays $7.00 of this cost leaving $5.50 per ton for farmers to pay. It must be applied to summer legumes (clover, beans, velvet beans and soybeans) planted alone or to permanent pasture but not for hay if desired.

There is a payment of 10c per cubic yard for dirt moved in the construction of a stock pond. Stock ponds must be constructed in pastures where livestock do not have access to running water 12 months per year. Stock ponds may be stocked with fish if desired. The P. M. A. office is attempting to get the construction of stock ponds set up under the purchase order program where a vendor with equipment can be sent to farms to build these ponds. Under this program P. M. A. pays the vendor part of the cost and the farmer pays the balance. This office needs to know the names of farmers who would like to have stock ponds constructed under such a program so that vendors can be advised as to the approximate number of ponds that would be constructed in 1947. Farmers interested in constructing a stock pond under the purchase order program are requested to advise this office or Mr. Stone's office as soon as possible.

FARM AND HOME ADMINISTRATION

S. R. Sinclair, F. H. A. supervisor for Hancock County and Miss Marjorie Elzey, home management supervisor attended a health conference in Laurel on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mr. E. E. Dean, District Extension Agent from Hattiesburg will be in Hancock County March 3-8 to assist County and Home Agents with 4-H Emphasis Week. At which time all organized 4-H Clubs in the county will review their work for the past year and make plans for the 1947 club year. An extensive drive for new 4-H Club members will also be put on during this week.

Cattle should be moved March 1 from out fields they have been grazing. With the proper amount of nitrogen, the oats will still be as profitable as oats not grazed. Put 30 pounds of nitrogen to each acre of oats.

Lespedeza should be sown in all oats not interplanted in a legume. Common or Kobe sown 25 pounds to the acre by March 1 is best for grazing. Korean will produce good hay on heavy soils. Plant 40 lbs. of Korean to the acre.

Don't sow lespedeza on white Dutch soil. The clover will choke the lespedeza out.

One of the common causes of lespedeza failures is planting too late. If you are planning to plant dallis grass, sow on a prepared seed bed in late February or early March. Use 15 pounds of good high-germinating seed. Drilling gives the best results.

FOREST PRACTICE PAYMENTS

This year forestry practice payments are over and the general farm allowance. You can earn them only by carrying out forestry practices.

Before 1947 payment for carrying out forestry practices was a part of the general farm allowance and any payment for carrying out forestry practices reduced the amount of payment available for other farm practices.

This year payment will be made for building firebreaks if not more than 50 percent of the enclosed area is burned. This should be an incentive to farmers to stop any fire that breaks out.

Up until this year, 30 cents per 100 linear feet was paid for building firebreaks only if no part of the surrounded area burned. This result was that once a fire got started, the owner figured he had lost his payment and often time didn't try to stop the fire.

If your farm has no woodland but has lands that should be in woods, a planting payment of foot more than $15 is available. If you have woodland on your farm, an allowance of 10 cents an acre is available for forestry practices.

Payment for planting farm woodland trees is $5 an acre, for woodland improvement $5 an acre, and for building firebreaks 30 cents per 100 feet.

In counties which have adopted as their optional practice an additional forestry practice, a payment of 5 cents an acre for all acres of woodland not burned during 1947 is provided.

FIVE STUDENTS ATTEND STATE BAND CLINIC

The annual 1947 State Band Clinic was held in Gulfport, Mississippi on February 6, 7, 8. This clinic was originally scheduled to be held in Hattiesburg, Mississippi, but because of unfavorable conditions that arose at the last minute, it was announced that Hattiesburg could not accommodate this year's clinic. Rather than not to have a clinic at all, Mr. J. Stanley Arnold, director of the Gulfport High School Band, interceded on behalf of the clinic and was granted permission to hold the event in Gulfport. This plan was readily agreed to by band directors and students alike.

Although the housing problem was a rather serious one, thanks to the graciousness of the citizens of Gulfport who agreed to furnish homes for out-of-town students this problem was soon solved.

Three-hundred of the best music students from all over the state attended the clinic. These students were divided into two bands, the Reading Band under the direction of Mr. Palmer Myran of Michigan City, Indiana, and the Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Dave Hughes of Elkhart, Indiana. These bands rehearsed for three days and climaxed the entire program by presenting a parade in which the clinic bands and several Mississippi school bands participated, and a public concert on Saturday night, Feb. 8.

During their stay in Gulfport, the students and directors were entertained with numerous socials.

The clinic was unanimously proclaimed one of the most successful ever held.

Students attending the clinic from Bay High were Ethel Schindler, Mary Casey, Jane Ann Martin, Jimmy McDonald and J. H. Johnston.

BAY HI WELCOMES NEW HOME ECONOMICS TEACHER

Department Receives New Equipment

The faculty and student body of Bay High cordially welcome Miss Dorothy Gentile as the new head of our Home Economics Department.

Miss Gentile is a graduate of Gulfport High School and of Mississippi Southern College.

We of Bay High not only welcome Miss Gentile, but hope she will like Bay High as much as we do.

The Home Economics Department is undergoing a complete revision this year. Undoubtedly, you read in an earlier issue of THE STUDENT PRINTS: that the living room and the bedroom have been redecorated; that we purchased a beautiful new Hot Point General Electric Range from the Mississippi Power Company; that later on we bought a beautiful new Refrigerator, a Frigidaire, from Stevenson's Electrical Shop; that recently we obtained from Kergosien's a lovely Bendix Washing Machine. All of this equipment is to be used for demonstration in our Home Economics Department.

Funeral Services For Joseph Labat, Held Saturday

Funeral services were held here on Saturday for Joseph Labat, 79 year old Negro resident of Bay St. Louis who died at the Saint-Goodridge Hospital in New Orleans on Thursday, February 13 at 2:40 p. m. His funeral was held from his late residence with a Requiem Mass at St. Rosa deLima Catholic Church. Interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

The deceased was a member of highly respected family and was an honest God fearing citizen. He was a member of the Knights of Peter Claver and other local societies.

He is survived by six daughters, Mrs. Elise Webster, Mrs. Sylvia Randall, Mrs. Chlotilda Yancey, Inez Portia, Celestine and Veronica Labat; four sons, Victor, Fabian, Sumner and Lucien Labat.

Serving as pallbearers were Christopher Maurice, Henry Lafarge, Clement Hazeuer, Raphael Favre, Leslie Curry, Albert Curry.

Many white citizens attended the funeral and many regretted his passing because they respected him and felt always that any duty entrusted to Joe Labat would be regarded as sacred and that his place will not be easily filled.

All the schools of Bay St. Louis resumed classes on Wednesday after the Carnival holidays. The children were glad to get back to work after having the time of their lives. Many went to New Orleans and participated in the festivities. They agreed that it was the best carnival they had seen.
